

What attracted you to this workshop: Let's Reimagine Feminism?

I want to have a better world

Learn and hear other views

Curiosity

Trying to discover how I even though I don't want also contribute to the slowness of this process.

Greta. And the word feminism. To look forward, to get, to feel the optimism.

Want inspiration

The invitation to imagine how to create more space for people in organisational settings, no matter the gender.

I have for many years adapted to a male norm in my work to fit in, get to interesting position and simply get my voice heard. But I realize I have not been my whole me. Now there is an opening to something better - how to advance and accelerate it?!

I just feel i am on a journey with the inner need to empower us as women, while staying connected to the male energy at the same time.

What do you bring with you from this session?

Gg

many questions

Happiness connection

We are just getting started! ;)

Frustration and sense of being many

Joy that we are here spending the time on this important topic!!

A shared conversation is needed...
Organisation by organisation.

Want to know more grounded energy

What do you bring with you from this session?

good energy start exploring female leadership

The feeling of being incomplete. And accepting that.

Cocreate the way forward, women and men together

...I don't want my little boys to inherit the guilt for a system that they are not yet part of building...

Thinking why I always have to prove myself as a woman

The courage to speak up and connecting to likeminded - because they exist!

You great men being aware and wanting to change should be proud and feel the strength from all of us

I will be more brave around this theme

Grounded and present

What do you bring with you from this session?

Its about the survival of the life on this earthlink. We need to valde Female energy!

Still frustration. And we are plenty.

Reimagine the manly norm

Being brave is done together

Nice to know we are so many people from different place to see this as important

There is a lot of female leadership if we just look around!
